2017

SECURITY RESEARCH,
INNOVATION & EDUCATION EVENT

This year's edition of Security, Research, Education and Innovation event (SRIIE) was organized on the 14th and 15th of November in Tallinn, Estonia.

As a part of the selected security researches financed by European Commission under FP7 funding agreement, ABC4EU had its own stand in the Security Innovation Room. Visitors had a chance to see videos from the pilots from Madrid-Barajas airport, Lisbon airport and port of Algeciras, and test an innovative security state-of-the-art hardware from Visionbox, used in the presented videos. We were also able to present our new leaflet, which includes the timeline of how the project was developed from the start and some future steps and predictions.

Main focus of the conference was reducing gap between research and the market in order to help innovative solutions meeting and satisfying the needs of practitioners and other users. The topics discussed in the panels were related to responding to terrorist attacks, cybercrime, managing multi-country disaster situations and the future of security research.

The project and its further development was also shown in the Discussion Club, where Daniel Cuesta Cantarero (Indra) presented the project features and its growth.

The event was organized by Estonian Academy of Security Sciences and Estonian Ministry of the Interior in collaboration with European Commission.
